Sophie Lever is a ceramic artist who creates both functional and sculptural work. Fascinated with pattern, geometry, and organization, both avenues of work contain these elements, whether that be through surface decoration or form. While her functional work is wheel-thrown, most of her sculptural work is built with hard slabs. She is interested in paradoxes and contradictions in her sense of self and how these ideas can visually play out in a single work. Sophie is currently an Artist in Residence at the Worcester Center for Crafts in Worcester, MA, where she teaches classes and continues her own studio practice. Prior to WCC, she was a resident at Access Arts in Columbia, MO and Brockway Center for Arts and Technology in Brockway, PA. She received her BA in Studio Arts from the University of Rochester in 2023.
